THE END OF THE WORLD.

The reading world is somewhat sur-prised to find General Booth figuring at last as a prophet that the end of the world is near at hand and utterng words of warning. It is true that age and pessimism too often walk arm n arm, and that in their declining years men entertain discomforting doubts and bad dreams.

Man has not been able to keep a record of the intelligent years he is not such as to warrant neglect, has spent upon the earth, neither has These walks are just as perilous to he been able to figure out from the data of the so-called holy prophets the day and hour when things mundane ing hurt by a fall and also of being will come to an end. How many thou-sands of generations have lived since been severely injured by a fall on the beginning no one knows, but to the premises, every generation this old earth under feet and these old heavens above us have been new; and there is going to be a new heaven and a new earth good which should be more strenuat so long as the will of God is not ously enforced. City walks can be well to the contrary; and it is not within kept and it should be seen that the ability of man to divine.

SIGNING AND VOTING.

That signatures are often wrongly interpreted there can be no question. The application of a signature for the furtherance of an Individual's ambitions or for the purpose of opening an issue like the liquor issue is no indication of what the action of the signer may be. An enemy may sign as readily as a friend for the purpose of having an opportunity to help knock his foe out. Others opposed to the issue may do it as a matter of fair play. It was shown by the municipal election in Boston on Tuesday that of the 5,000 or more citizens who signed Mr. Hibbard's papers only 1.783 woted for him; of the 5,000 or more that could be bought.

These are facts that it is well for those in interest to bear in mind. Men who sign reform manifestoes do not always want reform; and the men who sign for a prohibition issue are not necessarily prohibitionists.

It is to the second factor that he attaches most importance, "Furs are the next thing to immortal," he said, with a melancholy air of truthfulness. "My firm relined and collared this fall a coat that had been bought from us eight years ago. We had stored it between seasons, but during the season it had been in use almost every day, and it was still a beautiful garment—not, perhaps, exactly up to the modern cut, but a coat that a well-dressed woman of conservative tastes could wear without the least embarrassment. Think of it! Is there any other tradesman that has to wait ten years to turn his capital? Is there any other that has so much justification for charging a good price? Take my word for it, if it were not the poor folks who become well-to-do, and the continuous succession of little girls growing into big girls this would be a dreary business."—Boston Transcript.

PINE-LADEN ATMOSPHERE OF GREAT BENEFIT TO THOSE WHO HAVE CONSUMPTION.

Among the mighty pines of the Adirondack Mountains are hundreds, perhaps thousands, of consumptive people, who have returned to the primitive life of the early pioneer in an effort to recover health. They live in camps built of rough logs, and constantly inhale the fragrant pine-laden air, which has a soothing, healing effect upon the affected organs. There is a peculiar virtue in pine which makes it a splendid remedy for coughs and colds and other affections of the throat and bronchial organs. This valuable medicinal property is present in the Vir-

To break up a cold quickly there is nothing so effective as the mixture of two ounces of Glycerine, a half-ounce of Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, and eight ounces of pure Whisky. Take a teaspoonful every four hours. The ingredients are not expensive and can easily be mixed at home in a large bottle. It makes enough to last the average family an entire year, and will cure any cough that is curable. If you have any difficulty in securing a pure medicinal Whisky, send forty cents to the Leach Chemical Co., Cincinnati, O., who manufacture the genuine Virgin Oil of Pine compound pure, and they will see that you are supplied with a full half pint of pure straight whisky by prepaid express.
